

Information Disclosure Statement

Private personal information that Best Wing Limited can collect includes:

- (1) Information provided by the customer when opening an account or conducting a transaction, including but not limited to the customer's name, address, assets, bank information, previous transaction experience, etc;
- (2) Information used to verify the customer's identity, including but not limited to copies of the customer's passport, driver's license, credit report and other government issued identity materials;
- (3) Information generated from the related party transactions between the customer and Best Wing Limited or Best Wing Limited, including but not limited to the customer's cash out and cash in statements, etc;
- (4) Information generated from customers' browsing and using Best Wing Limited's website and online platform, including but not limited to customers' account transaction reports, etc. Qualification

Best Wing Limited disclosed information and Best Wing Limited disclosed information to:

Best Wing

Limited does not disclose private personal information about its current and past customers to anyone unless permitted by law. For example, when providing financial services to customers, Best Wing Limited can provide customers' information to non affiliated third parties (such as consumer reporting agencies of customer credit reports, etc.) when permitted by law. In addition, Best Wing

Limited may provide customer information to the government or regulatory authorities as permitted by law, as well as to comply with court summons, court order, subpoena or similar legal process, audit or investigation. Best Wing

Limited may also be authorized by the client to disclose the client's private personal information.

Confidentiality and information security procedures:

particular transaction have access to customer information. Best Wing Limited and its staff and Best Wing Limited related parties shall strictly abide by the information security procedures to keep customer information confidential. Best Wing Limited will protect its non-public personal information in the same way as its former customers when they are still customers; however, the former customers will no longer receive Best Wing Limited's annual privacy notice, which is different from the existing customers. Best Wing Limited will provide customers with an annual notification of their privacy policy as long as they maintain their account with Best Wing Limited. Best Wing Limited reserves the right to amend the privacy policy. In case of any ambiguity in language, the information disclosure statement in English shall prevail.